

Website translations with Drupal connector

Thanks to the seamless integration of the translation process into your Drupal system, we make it possible for your website to be translated as part of a smooth process. You can send us all content to be translated directly from Drupal at the click of the mouse and will receive the professional translation quickly and conveniently via the same channel. In this way, your Drupal page will always be kept up to date in all languages.

Advantages

Save time and money

- No manual copying and pasting
- No exporting and importing of files Translations are automatically entered in the specified page structure and format
- Submit translation orders at the click of the mouse from the Drupal environment
- No duplicate translations: Content which has already been translated is automatically detected, saved and not translated from scratch

Publish new website content quicker online

- Thanks to automated and standardised translation processes, you can quickly publish your website online in all languages and always keep it up to date

Reduce your IT expenditure

- Simple implementation of the plug-in

Improve the quality of translations
